Lyons Assails Tax on Foods as Dark Age Custom

Blasts Unnecessary Tribute to Feudal Barons in Springfield

Collection of a sales tax on food was assailed yesterday in an address at Freeport by Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for governor, as a "relic of the feudal barbarism of the Middle Ages."

During the day Lyons and his team-mate, C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, had delivered speeches in five other cities of the 13th—General Grant—Congressional district: Rochelle, Dixon, Morrison, Savanna and Stockton.

Speaking here in the course of his final week of downstate campaigning, the Libertyville legislator said:

"Back in the seventh to the fourteenth centuries, the peasants of Europe had the fields all to themselves during the spring and summer. The feudal barons did not interfere with them a bit.

But, when harvest time came, the barons and their spear carriers were right on hand! They were on hand to see to it that the peasants handed over enough of their produce to make the castle cupboards bulge before they took any for themselves.

"Pay Tax Before You Eat"

"Is there any fundamental difference between this old feudal custom and the present Illinois system, which tells the wage-earner: 'Before you can have your food, you must pay a tax on it.'"

Referring to the January 1 report of the state department of finance, showing that $16,949,361 in sales tax was collected on food in Illinois in the calendar year of 1939, Lyons continued:

"That is nearly seventeen million dollars, which Illinois families could have spent for food if they had not had to pay this totally unnecessary tribute to feudal barons at Springfield, just like the peasants of Europe did a thousand years ago.

"It is unnecessary because the state is using ONLY HALF of the sales tax money for relief and old age assistance."

"The Angel" Coming To Waukegan For Mat Battle With Schnable

Moose Brings Freak Grappler to Headline Card on March 22

M. Maurice Tillet, fantastic 276-pound French wrestling freak and internationally famous in the capitals of the world as "The Angel" is coming to Lake County.

The amazing Frenchman, who has been causing such a furor of excitement among anthropologists since coming to this country seven weeks ago, has been signed to wrestle in the main event of an all-star professional card to be presented by the Waukegan Moose lodge in the Waukegan High School gymnasium on Friday night, March 22. He will battle Hans Schnable, 238-pound German strongman and most prominent of the five Schnable brother wrestlers.

The Angel is the most talked of athlete in the world of sport today. He crashed the headlines of everything from newspapers and national picture magazines to highly technical scientific journals when anthropologists at Harvard University, Professors Ernest Hooton and Carl Coon, proclaimed him the nearest thing to the missing link between the prehistoric cave man and his monkey cousins that science has yet discovered.

The squat gorilla-like Tillet carries a head almost twice the size of a normal man on his 5 foot 8-inch solid muscle frame. Enthusiastic eastern sports writers, long ago caloused to the usual wrestling freaks, can't "get over" the Angel. Says Cy Kritzer in the Buffalo Evening News, "Boris Karloff, Charles Laughton and the late Lon Chaney had to spend 24 hours a day on makeup to look terrifying, but The Angel is a man who beats 'em all by looking natural."

Popular prices will prevail for the bouts and 3 other all star bouts will complete the card.

Mrs. Mary Smart, who has been convalescing at St. Therese hospital in Waukegan for injuries suffered in a fall, returned to her home Monday.

FOE OF GRAFT

Hon. Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, who declares that fully one-half of the nearly $17,000,000 in sales tax collected on food alone in Illinois is a totally unnecessary tribute being paid to the "feudal barons" at Springfield. Lyons claims the money is being wasted by the Horner administration. The candidate spent ten years in the state legislature, and he must know what he is taking about when he declares this tax on food is a relic of feudal barbarism and will be stopped when he becomes governor.

Wiltons Celebrate Purchase of Farm Home 40 Years Ago

Forty years ago Tuesday (March 12, 1900) Richard Wilton purchased a farm three miles south of Antioch, where he and Mrs. Wilton still reside, and where, Mr. Wilton says, they "hope to live for 40 years more!" Tuesday evening, in celebration of the event, they entertained their two children and three grandchildren at an oyster supper and a few games of cards at the home.

The Wiltons have been married for 50 years.

Census Will Reveal Housing Needs of 33 Million Families

Enumerators Will Get Data on Mortgages, Taxes and Interest

"The first and only complete statistical record presenting all the facts about the houses in which 33 million American families live will be compiled by the Census enumerators in April," according to Frank Hamlin, District Supervisor of the Census for this district.

"For years it has been the contention of many," declared Mr. Hamlin, "that the expansion of home construction was essential to bring about a return of prosperity. But experts have never been able to obtain a composite picture of existing housing facilities, nor obtain even an approximate demand for additional homes. This lack of information has made private capital unwilling to enter the field with any long-range, systematic development plan. The Government and cities have been making efforts to stimulate home building but the lack of factual data acted as a deterrent to these efforts."

According to District Supervisor Hamlin, Congress decided that an actual, factual survey would be necessary to obtain an exact measurement of housing needs as a preliminary step to the development of a plan which would invite private capital to meet the need. So when the census enumerators call on every family in April, he will seek information from each family on the type of structure in which it lives; what material it is made of; whether it is located in a city or on a farm, and whether or not it is in need of major repairs.

Concerning each dwelling unit he will ask the number of rooms; the water supply; the toilet facilities; bath tub, shower or running water; lighting equipment, rental value and sale value.

The information sought will also include whether the home is owned or rented; number of persons in the household; refrigeration equipment; whether a radio; what kind of heating equipment; fuel used for heating; fuel used for cooking; and annual expenditure for utilities.

In order to obtain a national picture of the home indebtedness situation, the enumerator will seek information on the mortgages; the payments thereon; real state taxes; interest on the mortgage; and the class of the mortgage holder, such as building and loan association, bank, life insurance company, mortgage company, FIOIC, individual or other.

The Census supervisor contends that every family will benefit directly or indirectly through the compiling of this complete statistical picture of the housing situation. Cities will know for the first time what neighborhoods are lacking in housing capacity and where there is the greatest demand for extension of water mains, electric lighting, sewage, sidewalks, paving and other improvements. Building and material men should be encouraged to go forward with improvement plans; lending agencies will have a better guide upon which to establish conservative rates, and the possibility of additional employment by reason of new construction should help every community.

Opening of "Style Shop" This Week Is Announced

The opening of the "Style shop," a women's wear store, at 900 Main street, the Howard building, has been announced by Ernest Birger, the proprietor.

Mr. Birger has had two years' experience in the clothing business in Rockford, and eight years with the Davis company, Chicago.

He plans to stock a general line of women's wear, including dresses, millinery and hosiery.

Grayslake Man Killed by Train This Morning

Car Is Struck When It Stalls on Railroad Tracks on Center Street

John Dzurick of Harvey subdivision, Grayslake, was killed this morning when the automobile in which he was driving was struck by a fast Soo Line train at the Center street crossing in Grayslake.

Dzurick was driving east, on his way to the Grayslake gelatine factory, when the accident occurred, at about 7:30 a. m.

It is not known whether he attempted to stop the car on observing the warning signals at the crossing, and the automobile then slid on the tracks, or whether he became confused and put on the brakes while the car was on the tracks, or if the motor of the automobile stalled.

The automobile was part way across the tracks, but lacked five feet of clearing them, when struck by the train, it is reported.

According to A. P. Meyer, station agent at Grayslake, the warning signals were working at the time Dzurick drove, or slid, on to the tracks.

Dzurick is survived by his widow and by three grown children.

High School P.T.A. Committees to be Appointed March 21

Chairmen of all standing committees will be appointed and work for the year outlined at an organization meeting to be held by the Antioch Township High School Parent Teacher organization, formerly the High School Forum, Thursday, March 21. The meeting will be held in the cafeteria, commencing at 8 o'clock.

All parents and teachers are invited to attend, the officers announce. "Visiting Day" was sponsored at the high school Wednesday by the P. T. A., with a good attendance of parents in spite of unpleasant weather conditions.

Visits to classrooms and tours of the building were conducted under the charge of student guides. Visiting parents were privileged to enjoy the noon luncheon served in the cafeteria.

The P. T. A. plans to hold its regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each school month, and a vote on this proposition will be held next Thursday evening.

Antioch Legion Is Host to District "Caravan"

Eight officers of the district, who as a "caravan" visit all posts in the county once during the year of their administration, paid a call on the Antioch American Legion post at its meeting last Thursday evening in the clubrooms.

The subjects of membership, Poppy Day sales, hospital work, boys' state and Sons of Legion work were touched upon and motion pictures of interest to Legion members were shown.

Motion pictures will also be featured at a meeting March 21, when they will be shown for Legion and auxiliary members.

Fox Lake Ambulance Aids in Emergency

Mrs. George Wagner was taken ill Wednesday evening and has been moved to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan. She was transported in an ambulance furnished by E. B. Smith of Fox Lake, who has offered the use of the vehicle to the Antioch Red Cross unit on call. When notified of the emergency by Chief James Stearns of the Antioch Fire department, who is chairman of the local rescue truck campaign, Smith made the trip to Antioch in 20 minutes, despite the icy condition of the pavements.

Rod and Gun Club to Sponsor Crow Hunt

A crow hunt, to last from now until the middle of May, is being sponsored by the Antioch Rod and Gun club according to R. H. Childers, secretary. A first prize of $5 is being offered for the person bringing in the most crows, a second of $3 and a third of $1.

Reports and evidence should be checked with R. G. Holtz, president of the club, or with Childers as the crows are bagged.

Childers also reminds hunters that Lake county pays a bounty of six cents a head on crows and three cents on each crow egg.

Confectioner Donates Candy Basket to Aid Rescue Truck Fund

Ted Poulos, Antioch's candy-maker de-luxe, has donated a basket of candy to the Antioch fire department to be sold or otherwise disposed of as the department sees fit. Proceeds will be devoted to the Rescue Truck fund.

The basket, which is itself made entirely of candy, is a triumph of the confectioner's art. About one and a half feet in height, it is made entirely of chocolate, with a base and handle of the same material.

The chocolate is almost entirely concealed beneath its decorations of candy roses, shells, scrolls and other adornments; and is filled with candy Easter eggs, chocolate rabbits, and other confections appropriate to the season.

It will be displayed in the show window of Ted's Sweet shop on Lake street during the coming week.

A huge candy cane has also been donated by Nevitt's tavern, to the fire department to be used in swelling the truck fund.

Veterinarian's Health Work to Be Described

"The part that the veterinarian plays in protecting public health" will be the theme of a talk to be given by Dr. G. W. Jensen at a meeting of the Men's Civic club Monday evening in the Antioch restaurant.

Dr. Jensen will touch on such subjects as the control of rabies epidemics and the tuberculin testing of cows, as well as others in which the veterinarian can aid general improvement of community health.

The meeting will open with a dinner.

Tuberculosis Prevention Tests Planned March 26

Tests in connection with the constant Lake county campaign for the early discovery and prevention of tuberculosis among young people will be held at the Antioch Grade school and Antioch Township High school Tuesday, March 26. The tests at the high school will be held in the morning and those at the grade school in the afternoon.

Sonnenberg Signs for McMillen Bout on Firemen's Card

Silverstein - Grobmeir Are Other Half of Double Feature April 5

Gus Sonnenberg, former world's heavyweight champion, has signed to meet Jim McMillen, local heavyweight contender, in one of the feature bouts on the all-star card to be staged Friday, April 5, at the Antioch Township High school gym under the sponsorship of the Antioch Fire department. "Gloomy" Gus, who once wore the crown, is bound to prove a worthy opponent for McMillen who has been the main threat to the kings of the mat for the past several years.

Ruffy Silverstein, who proved popular with local fans last year when he conquered the Chinese star, Chin Lee, will appear in the other half of the double feature against Gorilla Grobmeier. Olaf Olsen will be matched against Hans Schnable, provided of course, that Schnable survives his bout with the "Angel" in Waukegan on March 22.

These three bouts plus four boxing bouts to be staged by Coach R. H. Childers' star amateurs against opponents from Libertyville or Grant, will make one of the most outstanding sports events ever held in Lake county.

Local Brawl in Spotlight

An added attraction may be a wrestling match between Bill Murphy and Carl Pachay. Murphy was the first to accept the challenge hurled last week by the voluble Pachay. The brawny miller claims he can throw Murphy and Chet Kilpatrick one after the other. Kilpatrick was disappointed when he found Murphy was to get the bout with Pachay. When interviewed by an Antioch News reporter today he said: "Where does Pachay get that stuff? He can have me right now, here on the floor. Pachay sounds like some one must have dropped a sack of feed on his head. If he can beat Murphy, which I doubt, I'll take him on any time, any place. All I'll need is five minutes notice."

And Murphy's comment to the News last night was: "Say, that Pachay is going to spend so much time outside the ring he'll think he's one of the spectators."

Meanwhile Pachay is said to be regaling farmers along his feed grinding route with tales of his prowess. The fans are hoping to see the thing settled in the ring and not over the back yard fence. Pachay could not be reached at press time, but his friends declare it's quite possible that Pachay may prove to be a man of few words but plenty of action when he gets in the ring.

Tickets are priced at fifty cents and one dollar and can be purchased from any fireman or at the Klass clothing store.

Non-partisan Group Backs R. B. Martin For State Senator

Candidate's Platform Gets Approval of Civic Bodies

Party lines vanished in Highland Park last week when prominent civic minded citizens rallied to the support of Richard B. Martin, Republican candidate for state senator. Recognizing the need for progressive legislative leadership in the Eighth Senatorial District, comprising Lake, McHenry and Boone counties, public opinion representing practically every section and class, has spontaneously espoused a young man whose platform reflects the desires of an overwhelming majority of voters and taxpayers.

Acting with speed and vigor, the Highland Park Non-Partisan Citizens' Committee endorsing Richard B. Martin for State Senator, opened headquarters at 378 Central avenue and perfected the details of a district-wide campaign that promises to sweep young Martin to a sensational victory in the April primaries.

Among members of the committee are Eugene Pfister, chairman; Edmund Eitel, Robert G. Anspach, Edwin L. Gilroy, R. R. Wible and the Hon. William M. Dooley, former mayor of Highland Park.

Nomination for the office of state senator in the Eighth district, Chairman Pfister points out, is tantamount to election, as there is no Democratic (continued on page 5)

Individual Opportunity Foundation of Progress

Thomas Jefferson, referred to by some historians as "the father of the patent system," was in fact the first patent examiner. When the patent question first came up, Jefferson was opposed to granting patents for they hinted at monopoly; but when he saw how the government, by giving patent rights, stimulated invention, he became an immediate advocate. Since 1900, it has been estimated that 100,000 new products have been placed on the market as the result of American ingenuity inspired by the patent system.

Let's not forget this today when government attempts to curb the profit opportunity to the vanishing point, or abuse government privileges and power by competing with private enterprise. Whether you are an inventor who thinks he is deserving of reward for his accomplishments, or a fellow on a job earning a salary, you like to feel that opportunity and the possibility of personal reward are always ahead of you.

You grow with the times. Your community is constantly progressing. The reason is that the American people are an enterprising people and want to go ahead; not because they are a selfish people, but because they are proud of their freedom and the right to receive rewards for their own endeavors as individuals living in a free country. This was reasoned out in the days of the molding of our present United States and by great men who were responsible for the evolution of this country from a wilderness to the world's leading industrial and scientific nation. They knew that as long as there was sound government to regulate industry, monopoly could not exist and therefore there was no reason for government to compete with its own citizens in business and thereby destroy individual opportunity for reward.

Hogs Are Hogs

In one respect at least the farmer has the edge on the manufacturer, merchant or business man of the city. Through marketing cooperative organizations, farmers, by group action, can dispose of their products quickly and at a maximum price. A single manufacturer, on the other hand, must maintain his own salesmen, and they must be better salesmen than those of his competitor next door. He must train them and furnish them transportation, on the gamble that they will sell enough goods to reimburse all costs and leave a little profit. He must always be on guard against the possibility of a competitor thinking up a new "model" that might overnight leave him without a market for his product.

Marketing cooperatives are the modern farmer's "salesmen." The farmer does not have to worry about new models. Hogs are hogs. They have not changed materially since the days of King Tut. Neither have cows and the milk they give.

But the job of "selling" which the marketing co-ops do, is not simple just because there are no new models to contend with. Their business is to help the farmer maintain ready markets and stable distribution for time-honored necessities of life—not automobiles, face cream and luxury gadgets, but the products of America's farms.

The Facts About the Machine

The evidence in the case would be thrown out of any court in the land, but an idea still persists in some quarters that machines destroy more jobs than they make. As a result, even those in a position to know better are found declaring that something should be done to curb the machine—that perhaps a moratorium on invention should be declared.

Short-sightedness is responsible for this stand. It neglects the fact that it is in the periods of greatest machine development that the great increases in jobs and payrolls have been built up in this country, and that when this process has been slowed down, stagnation has been the result. In other words, it is through placing greater confidence in the machine rather than in curtailing machine progress that prosperity is to be found.

Some extremely relevant facts in this connection are brought out in a recent "New England Letter," published by the First National Bank of Boston, which points to the automobile industry as an outstanding example of machine progress.

"The machine," this publication declares, "creates many more jobs than it destroys. The number of persons employed directly and indirectly in the automobile industry today is about six times as many as in the peak employment in the horse and buggy business, including the related lines of activity. It is estimated that over four-fifths of the inventions do not displace labor, but are used to lower costs and by thus broadening the markets provide increased employment."

"If the contention were true that new mechanical devices cause chronic unemployment, then in each succeeding decade a smaller percentage of the population would be gainfully employed. The facts are that during the period of greatest technological advance, from 1870 to 1930, the population of this country trebled but the number of workers nearly quadrupled and the volume of production increased about elevenfold."

"At present, employment is more nearly normal in those industries that are highly mechanized, whereas unemployment is greatest in lines where machinery plays a relatively small part."

The countless evidences of machine progress are apparent to anyone who looks at the record over the period of the years. But as long as there is misunderstanding, and as long as this misunderstanding is publicly uttered, it remains important for those interested in America's future welfare to emphasize the facts of the case.

CALVARY: TRIUMPH THROUGH SACRIFICE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 27:33-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.—Isaiah 53:3.

At Calvary, reverent and thoughtful readers of God's Word stand speechless, and confess themselves to be powerless to explain or to expound the awe-inspiring story, and yet just because it is such a story, because on that cross the divine Son of God gave Himself in sacrificial atonement for sin, we must do our utmost to understand it, to explain it, and certainly to declare it to all mankind. For when He who knew no sin became sin for us, it was for our sin that He died. Here alone do we find redemption.

We approach this scene therefore with reverence, and with the prayer that we may so present the dying Saviour to dying men that some may believe and be saved. We center our thoughts around three expressions taken from the text.

I. "They Crucified Him."

All of the gospel stories are remarkably reticent when they speak of the cross. Details of surrounding events are given, but when they speak of the cross itself, they can only say that He was crucified. Let us look at the One who hung on that sacred tree, for He is the Saviour of the world. Refusing the stupefying potion (v. 34) and facing death fully conscious, we hear Him crying out of the darkness which covered all the land, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" That cry indicates the depth to which our Saviour went for us.

Does it not seem that the Father in that darkest moment of history turned His back upon the One who knowing no sin Himself had become sin for us? And yet we know that it was God who hung upon the tree, God the Son. Here is divine mystery, the meaning of which we cannot fathom; but we know that it was for us.

Then came the cry with the loud voice, "It is finished!" This was not the death of the languishing martyr. The Son of God, having wrought out redemption on the cross, cried out in powerful tones of victory, "It is finished!" and yielded up His spirit.

II. "They Watched Him."

Soldiers, priests, the two thieves, the women—how different was the purpose and the spirit of their watching.

The soldiers had made sport of Him and mocked Him in the palace. They took a passing curious interest in the crucifixion. They gambled over His garments, and finally settled down to perform their duty as guards with stolid indifference. How much of humanity is just like that!

The priests who professed to know about God and His Word stand out in appalling wickedness and ignorance. Being members of the highest and noblest of callings, they fell when they sinned to the lowest depths.

Of the two thieves, one believed and the other railed at our Lord (Luke 23:39, 40). The cross has ever since been the dividing line, part of humanity turning there to life eternal, the rest going on its railing way to destruction.

The women waited. No doubt they were perplexed and troubled in heart, but they stood faithfully by until His precious body was in the grave. We read of no apostle who did as much, and we give all honor to the faithful women.

III. "He Trusted in God."

This was the sarcastic taunt of the priests. "When the King was hanging on the cross and the interpreters of religion, the priests, misinterpreted God, there was a great silence. God's noninterference is the first thing that impresses one as the story is read, but that is not all the story. It was not wholly noninterference. From the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. That seems to have been the feet of God. It would seem that in infinite tenderness God wrapped the land in darkness in the hour of His Son's supreme suffering" (G. Campbell Morgan). We also read in verse 51 that the veil of the temple was torn from top to bottom, opening the way for all men in Christ to enter the Holy of Holies.

"He trusted God." "As, even to the sacrifice of Himself in death. Because He could not save Himself (v. 42) in thus doing the will of God the Father, He did save others. The scoffing priests told the truth in spite of their wicked purpose to falsify. "They crucified Him." "They watched Him," but "He trusted God" and became the Saviour of the world.

How Great and How Wondrous
How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.—Daniel 4:3.

State Hygiene Worker Addresses P.T.A. "Men's Night"

Dr. Bertha Schafer Is Heard
at Grade School Group's Meeting

Dr. Bertha Schafer, executive director of the Illinois School of Hygiene League, and state social hygiene chairman for the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, was the speaker at the annual "Men's Night" program of the Antioch Grade School P. T. A. Monday evening in the schoolhouse. The meeting drew one of the largest attendances of the year.

W. C. Petty, acting as program chairman, introduced the speaker. Other "officers-pro tem" were Arthur Maples as president; John Gaa, secretary; Henry Reintner, treasurer.

Tuberculosis prevention tests will be held at the school March 26, Mrs. Elmer Hunter, health chairman, announced. She also asked that the names of children who will enter school next fall be given to either her or Mrs. John Gaa, so that plans may be made for the summer roundup. The date for the roundup has been tentatively set for April 10.

Mrs. Hunter presented summer roundup certificates to the parents of Virginia Peterson, George Nelson and Charles Horton, and conferred a certificate on the Grade school for its summer roundup work last spring.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. A. P. Bratrude, Ralph Clabaugh and Mrs. D. N. Deering was appointed to present a slate of officers for the election at the P. T. A.'s April meeting.

John J. Dahms of Libertyville, district Boy Scout executive, was present and urged the formation of a "cub pack" of junior Boy Scouts in Antioch. The P. T. A. voted to sponsor such a unit, and to make plans at the April meeting for its foundation.

The "room count" of attendance of parents was taken, with the February money being divided among the second, third and sixth grades, and the March money going to the sixth grade.

The P. T. A. voted to repaint and re-cover the furniture in the rest room, and to purchase a light for the room. A letter of interest of the association which was published in the March bulletin of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, was read by Mrs. C. N. Lux.

A resume of highlights at the Lake County P. T. A. council meeting held in the Libertyville Grade school Feb. 15 was given by Mrs. Harry Radtke, county council chairman.

In her report on the county gathering Mrs. Radtke described the election and installation of the new county council officers, including Mrs. Elmer Hunter, Antioch, president; Mrs. Jos. May, Libertyville, vice-president; W. C. Petty, Antioch, second vice-president; Mrs. R. G. Rothenbach, Grayslake, secretary, and Mrs. W. Schroeder, Ingleside, treasurer. She announced that Mrs. Hunter would be a delegate from the county organization to the Illinois state convention.

Refreshments were served by a committee of men, headed by Clete Vos, chairman.

Abraham Lincoln's Letters
In 1921 Robert Lincoln, in a formal document, gave the title of Abraham Lincoln's letters to the Library of Congress. In this document he expressly stated that they were not to be made public until 21 years after his death. He died in July, 1920.

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE LIFE OF RICHARD J. LYONS

AS TEEN AGE TELEGRAPHER IN A NEWS PAPER OFFICE, RICHARD J. LYONS OF LIBERTYVILLE, 45-YEAR OLD CANDIDATE FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR, HAD PROGRESSED CREDITABLY FROM HIS START AS MESSENGER BOY AT AGE 11.

AT 21, DICK FOUND AN OPPORTUNITY TO GO WITH A BUILDING MATERIALS COMPANY AS SALESMAN. HIS SUCCESS WAS SOON COMING, AND SO PRO- NOUNCED THAT AFTER A FEW MONTHS HE BECAME TERRITORIAL SALES MANAGER.

BUT AFTER HAVING MADE HIS MARK AS A YOUNG SALES EXECUTIVE, LYONS DEVELOPED A STRONG DESIRE TO GO INTO BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF. RESIGNING HIS POST AND GIVING UP A GOOD SALARY, HE OPENED A VILLAGE STORE.

THIS STORE WAS IN AREA (NOW MUNDELEIN, ILL.). HE OPERATED IT SUCCESSFULLY UNTIL 1924 WHEN HE MOVED TO LIBERTYVILLE, ENTERED THE REAL ESTATE BUSINESS. THIS EXPERIENCE GAVE HIM A KEEN UNDERSTANDING OF SMALL BUSINESS AND ENABLES HIM TO APPROACH THE BUSINESS-AND-GOVERNMENT PROBLEM IN A CONSTRUCTIVE WAY.

assistance. It is using the rest for general purposes of government and for WASTE.

"When I am governor, backed by a Republican legislature, I am going to put a stop to this relic of the Middle Ages. I have explained before how the sales tax on food can be removed through legal procedure without a constitutional amendment. It can be done—and it will be done."

Lyons' foe of crime
In an earlier address at Dixon, Lyons declared that small towns and farming communities of Illinois should have the same modern crime-fighting facilities now used in the large cities. He announced his support of two proposals to bring this about.

First, he said, he favors establishment of a state scientific crime detection laboratory, fully equipped with all the latest devices, and manned by expert technicians and scientific crime investigators. These facilities and services would be available without cost to state's attorneys, sheriffs and local law-enforcement officials throughout Illinois.

Second, he urged the passage of a law making it possible for the various county sheriffs to establish adequate but inexpensive two-way police radio broadcasting stations.

Author of Anti-Crime Laws
During his ten years in the Illinois General Assembly, Lyons was especially active in promoting measures for efficient law enforcement.

Among others, he sponsored the bill creating the present state bureau of criminal identification and investigation; and another for the establishment of the two-way radio broadcasting system for the state highway police.

Lyons' successful efforts for improved law-enforcement facilities in Illinois attracted favorable attention among peace officers throughout the country.

Commended by J. Edgar Hoover
J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, invited him to address a national gathering of more than a thousand police officials in Washington, D. C., where he stirred considerable comment by his attack upon the hook-up of crime and politics.

Following this, he was four times officially recognized in the past six months by being made the guest of honor and principal speaker at various state and national conventions of law enforcement officials; namely, in September, at the Tulsa, Oklahoma, annual convention of the International Association for Identification, at the Springfield convention of the Illinois Police Benevolent and Protective Association; in October, at the Annual Banquet of the Judges and Police Executives Association held in Buffalo, New York; and in December, at the annual banquet of the Wisconsin Sheriffs Association in Milwaukee.

Non-Partisan Group ---

contender for the office. This fact makes it possible for all shades of political opinion in national affairs to join in a non-partisan coalition in support of Martin.

"Richard Martin's outstanding qualifications for the office he is seeking have all but wiped out partisan political lines," Chairman Pfister declares. "Both Republicans and Democrats, as well as independent voters, have taken advantage of an opportunity to get solidly behind an able and conscientious young business man who has earned the liking and respect of everyone."

That Martin's candidacy has eradicated party lines in fact, as well as in name, political wisacres point out, is seen in the fact that he is militantly supported by William M. Dooley, former mayor and a life-long Democrat.

Martin made his platform last Monday (March 11). It was inspired, he says, by a thorough personal canvass of the district which developed an insistent demand in town, village and country for legislative reform for the benefit of public schools, township government and local improvements through a more equitable spending of gasoline tax money.

"I shall strive, if elected," Martin explains, "to secure more money per child for educational purposes from the surplus of state millions which now go to payrolls. The money is available and if properly used, could bring about a reduction in school taxes."

"Another principle for which I would battle is the retention of our township form of government. There is a concerted move to abolish this system with the tradition of township supervisors, in favor of centralization. Yet experience has proved that township government is the most economical system of local administration known to exist."

"And finally, I would work to liberalize the spending of gasoline tax money. At present each community's share of the tax is spent as the state authorities want it spent, regardless of local conditions. Everyone feels it could be better spent for needed local road and street improvements, with a consequent reduction in the burden of special assessments."

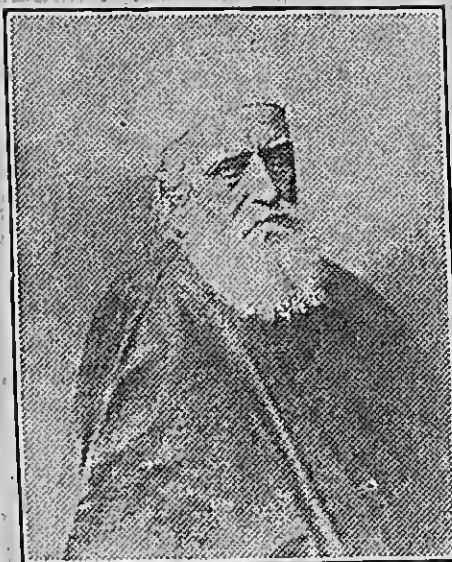

Parents and teachers, business men and home owners, along with the rank and file of voters, have expressed enthusiastic approval of Martin's platform. It will be discussed in a series of mass meetings scheduled to take place between now and April 9th.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Battle Over Income Questions Threatens Entire 1940 Census; In Europe; Peace Talk Revived

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union

SHOEMAKER ROSSELLI AND HIS COBBLING SHOP
"I'm answer census questions when they put polite."

CONGRESS: Census Censure

From Washington to his Racine, Wis., office Census Director William Austin rushed a telegram:

"Withdraw Rosselli charges immediately. You have disregarded instructions that before taking legal action cases must be submitted to Washington office for disposition. You will be held strictly responsible for this procedure..."

Thus was closed the latest in a series of eruptions which threaten to wreck Uncle Sam's 1940 decennial census. James Rosselli, a Kenosha, Wis., shoe repair man, had been handed a federal warrant for refusing to answer census questions about his business. The census taker also charged Shoemaker Rosselli had thrown him out. Answered Rosselli:

"I'm answer census questions when they put polite... Everything can be explain. I walk out on him, yes... But I don't chase him."

Gaining steam at Washington was the fight of Sen. Charles Tobey (Rep., N. H.) to have personal income questions stricken from the 1940 nose count. Franklin Roosevelt had denounced it as "an obviously political move," and the census bureau was willing to let citizens refuse the question if they wished. But Senator Tobey was adamant. Said he: "The American people cry out, 'Hold! Enough!'"

After several days of this, the senate commerce committee voted 10 to 5 to postpone temporarily its consideration of an anti-personal question resolution. Meanwhile Census Taker Austin wrung his hands, for his house-to-house canvass is to start April 2. Should congress continue to squabble, he knew not what would become of the decennial census.

Also in congress: Wagner Act. Twenty-one changes in the present act were recommended to the house by a special investigating committee, but defeat was predicted. Chief proposal: Divorcement of NLRB judicial and administrative functions.

'Clean Politics' Act. The senate killed a move to repeal the Hatch law's prohibition of political activity by federal employees, then began arguing a proposal to extend the act to state workers who get part of their pay from federal funds.

Agriculture. While the President signed legislation extending the farm mortgage moratorium, five Democratic senators introduced a bill to restore independence of the farm credit administration, recently placed under the department of agriculture.

How the wind is blowing...

RELIEF—Patterned after the successful surplus foods stamp plan, a cotton stamp plan for distributing clothing among relief families will be started this month in five or six cities.

AGRICULTURE—According to Chicago crop authorities, U. S. winter wheat prospects in early March showed "some improvement" over the December 1 condition thanks to better-than-normal winter moisture and snow protection against sub-zero weather.

ARMY—The war department announced surplus and "unstandard" munition supplies were being sold to neutral nations. Item: 60 six-inch World war guns stored at Aberdeen, Md., proving ground since the World war, were sold "as is" and "where is" to Brazil.

JEWRY—To prevent Arab uprisings, Britain restricted sale of Palestine land to Jews. When riots followed, Neville Chamberlain's government won its first wartime census move in the house of commons. By 292 to 120, the house upheld the Palestine decree.

THE WARS: Peace in the North?

Early March found Finland's warriors valiantly trying to save Viipuri from the invading Reds, who let off excess steam by "deliberately" bombing a hospital in south-central Finland. Biggest news of the Russo-Finnish war, however, was the effort all Europe seemed making to bring these belligerents to peace.

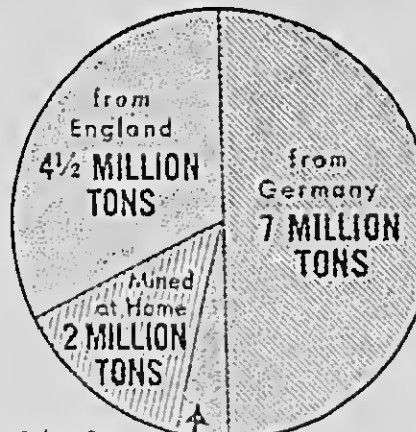

Background for this peace was the obvious fact that every European nation would gain by it. Scandinavia would gain by side-stepping the combined pressure of France, Britain, Germany, Russia and Finland. Russia would gain by turning her attention to a sorry domestic situation.

Knowing this, observers were not surprised when London, Berlin, Brussels, Paris and Stockholm began bristling with reports that Sweden was mediating, that the Russo-Finnish war might be called off at any moment.

Most likely terms: Surrender of the Karelian Isthmus (including Viipuri), part of Lapland, Petsamo and the Hango naval base. As a "deadline" drew near, the Finns practically admitted such overtures had been made, yet there was small chance they would be accepted.

More War in the West?

For the moment, northern peace talk had no effect elsewhere. In what was a day of wild and woolly warfare for the western front, 20 Britons were captured by the Nazis.

ITALY'S COAL SOURCES
More from Britain?

A new wave of torpedoings, bombings and mine explosions cost the neutral Dutch 12 ships.

But Britain's foe-of-the-week was Italy, which protested furiously when the allies clamped an embargo on Italian coal imports from the Reich. Within 48 hours 16 Italian ships were hauled into British ports and their coal cargoes discharged. Rome threatened the situation would become serious unless Britain backed down, but there was no sign of this. Already getting more than a fourth of her coal from Britain (see chart) Italy seemed faced with the choice of declaring war (an improbability) or swapping her munitions and airplane motors for British coal.

Welles Mission

Completing the first half of his European fact-finding junket, U. S. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles left Berlin, gathered his strength and his luggage in Lausanne, Switzerland, then headed for Paris. In Rome he had talked with a mild-mannered Benito Mussolini. In Berlin he had met a tough and determined Adolf Hitler.

Still on the calendar were two more visits. Mr. Welles was to fly from Paris to London, where Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain would probably restate his war aims. Principal aim: (Destruction of the Nazi rule.) Then Mr. Welles would return to Rome for more conversations with Il Duce before catching the Conte Di Savoia for home. Before he walks up the gangplank, observers thought Sumner Welles could not possibly avoid planting his foot in the potentially dangerous British-Italian coal squabble.

in the news...

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL, U. S. army chief, was welcomed to Hawaii by a flight of 60 army planes. Embarrassing note: Two ships collided in mid-air, but pilots parachuted safely.

FRANK ASHTON-GWATKIN, Britisher, and CHARLES RIST, Frenchman, constituted a specialized apple-polishing expedition to soothe U. S. anger over difficulties arising from the German blockade.

Biggest complaints: (1) censorship of U. S. mails; (2) taking U. S. ships into contraband control ports. Arriving in Washington, the delegation was closeted with Secretary of State CORDELL HULL.

MOST REV. SAMUEL A. STRITCH was enthroned new Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago.

POLAND: Atrocity News

From three sources this month came news of trouble in Nazi-occupied Poland and Czechoslovakia:

(1) In Berlin it was revealed that deportation of Jews to the newly established state southeast of Lublin, in Poland, has been stopped because local administrators complained about lack of facilities. At the same time Berlin announced that time of worship in Polish Catholic churches was being limited because priests "misused divine services for political purposes."

(2) In Paris, Poland-in-exile claimed that 136 Polish schoolboys had been executed at Bydgoszcz; that 6,000 men and women had been executed there up to December 31; that 350 Poles from Gdynia were shot after being forced to dig their graves.

(3) Paul Ghali, writing from Paris for the Chicago Daily News, had "authentic sources" for his information that Polish landowners have been dispossessed, and that Czech children must submit when little Germans in the same school bully and tease them.

RUMANIA: Prayers

Keystone of Balkan security is Rumania's neutrality, often threatened the past six months by the economic tug-of-war being waged between Russia, Germany, France and Britain. Cognizant of this, Pope Pius prayed in early March that Rumania might be preserved "from the scourge of war." What happened in the next three days made no sense, but it did indicate that Rumania was also praying:

First day: Rumania was reported rushing a little Maginot line along her Bessarabian border fronting Russia.

Second day: It was announced by Russia that Soviet Premier, Vyacheslav Molotov will soon visit Bucharest to initial a non-aggression pact. This was a shocker, for Russia has made no secret of her designs on Bessarabia.

Third day: King Carol opened his parliament, promising to maintain a permanent 1,600,000-man army regardless of cost.

Adding it up, observers wondered if King Carol might not at last be withering under pressure from all sides.

POLITICS: Biggest Barrage

For months Franklin Roosevelt has parried third-term questions. But each parry is more difficult, for each press conference brings more definite questions. In early March the President returned from his Caribbean vacation to face the biggest barrage yet. Only the day before his name had been entered in Pennsylvania's Democratic primary and correspondents were hungry for a comment. But they got nothing except his remark that all third-term rumors fell into one of the four newspaper categories suggested by Thomas Jefferson: (1) news; (2) probabilities; (3) possibilities; (4) lies.

Nobody knew into which of these categories the latest rumor fell, but it bore authentic earmarks. Out of Washington came reports that Franklin Roosevelt tend with John Nance Garner would burst into flames before Illinois' April 9 primary, first crucial Roosevelt-Garner contest support. Somehow, the wisecracks learned Mr. Roosevelt will plump this month for a New Dealish presidential slate, thus forcing an answer from the sphinx-like Mr. Garner.
